Crop Art New Contest at Plainfield Farmer's Fair

Crop art and butter sculpture are popular agriculture art forms over 100 years old. In order to promote and advance agricultural business interests after the Civil War, many Midwestern towns held extravagant expositions to show just how abundant and available food was thanks to both the fertile land and modern technology. This year, the 2019 Pennsylvania Farm Show premiered Crop Art as a new contest and we, as a member of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs, would like to offer this "new" and exciting competition.

The premise of the artistic challenge is straightforward: Create an artwork covered completely with only naturally colored seeds.

This contest calls for entrants to create a piece of artwork entirely out of dry seeds and beans. Entries in this category would include but are not limited to portraits, landscapes and other pictures that would normally be painted. Submitted artwork will be judged on overall artistic merit, cleverness of subject, technique, originality and skill. The natural color of the seeds and beans provides the only pigment to the picture as no paint or dyes are allowed. No portion of the seedpod is to be used in the artwork and no weeds. The artwork is to be completely and exclusively created from whole and unadulterated naturally colored seeds and beans. Seeds should be affixed permanently to the flat surface with a clear or invisible adhesive. No shellac or polyurethane coatings. Seed portion of artwork must be less than $\frac{3}{4}$ " thick. (If work is mounted on $\frac{1}{2}$ " thick board, the total thickness of entry must be less than $1\frac{1}{4}$ ".) Seeds may be layered or partially layered on top of one another as long as the total thickness doesn't exceed $\frac{3}{4}$ ". Crop Art pictures are to be no larger than 400 square inches in area and mounted on a stiff flat board such as plywood. It is not necessary that the board be rectangular. Pictures may have frames but frames are not required. No portion of mounting board is to be visible. Mounting board must be completely covered with seeds. There should not be glass or plastic covering the artwork. An unsigned 4" x 6" card must accompany the artwork with samples of the seeds used in the artwork clearly and neatly identified. Let's get creative and see what we can put together for this new "old fashioned" craft.

Premiums: 1st place - $25, 2nd place - $20. 3rd place - $15, 4th place - $15, 5th place

Vacation, Vacation

by Robert L. Martin

I need a vacation from the daily grind,
And leave all the commotion way behind,
Bosses yelling, weather steaming,
Dogs barking, children screaming,
Fence needs fixing, grass too high,
Too much anxiety for the month of July.

Way out in the woods away from it all,
Where mosquitoes bite and rattlers crawl,
Children still scream and dogs still bark,
Commotion abounds wherever thou art.
Gotta get some peace and relaxation.
"Tis so peaceful back at the office,
Back here at the daily grind.
